

Radhiya Rashid Khamis Al Rajaby

LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/radhiya-al-rajaby-439962179/>

Nationality: Emirati

DHA Licensed

Objective

To join a well-reputed organization, and to be able to provide the company my skills and knowledge. As a result, I would be able to heighten my potential and improve my skills.

Education

University of Sharjah September 2015 - June 2019
Bachelors of Science in Clinical Nutrition and Dietetics

Work Experience

University of Sharjah (Clinical Nutrition and Dietetics Department)

Clinical tutor (full-time) January 2020 – Present
Clinical tutor (part-time) September 2019– December 2019

United Arab Emirates University

Research assistant July 2019 – Dec 2019

University of Sharjah

Research assistant July 2019 – Dec 2019

American Hospital

Clinical Trainee April 2019 – May 2019

University Hospital Sharjah

Clinical Trainee February 2019 – March 2019

Linguistic Skills

English (speaking, reading and writing)
Arabic (speaking, reading and writing)

Publications

- Nutrition knowledge of caregivers working in health and education centers for children with special healthcare needs (https://doi.org/10.4103/abhs.abhs_26_22)
- Camel milk consumption patterns and perceptions in the UAE: a cross-sectional study (<https://doi.org/10.1017/jns.2022.55>)
- Impact of a Nutrition Education Intervention on Salt/Sodium Related Knowledge, Attitude, and Practice of University Students (<https://doi.org/10.3389/fnut.2022.830262>)

Certificates

- Certificate of participation in Middle East Nutrition Leadership Program (ME-NLP 2022) – September 2022
- Certificate of appreciation for giving an online webinar about “Diet Trends; To Follow or Not?” in collaboration with Health Promotion Department at the Supreme Council for Family Affairs in Sharjah – November 2021
- Certificate of appreciation for efforts and commitment to the success of the On-Campus Examinations – May 2021
- American Heart Association Basic Life Support (CPR and AED) Program - April 2021